The Grandparent Scam: What it is and how to protect yourself

The grandparent scam is a highly pervasive fraud tactic, and very successful since it preys on a senior's emotions and their desire to protect their loved ones. Grandparent scams, also known as emergency scams, involve a fraudster who poses as a loved one - typically a grandchild, as the name would suggest. Claiming to be hurt or in trouble, they say they need money immediately.

How the grandparent scam works:

A grandparent receives a phone call from a fraudster pretending to be their grandchild. The caller sounds very distressed and says they have been hurt in an accident, they're in jail or facing another crisis - and needs money to get out of it. The caller, who may use voice-altering software or speaks with such distress that their voice isn't recognizable, pleads with the grandparent not to tell anyone, especially their parents. The senior, concerned about their grandchild, sends money and because they have kept it all a secret, don't find out it's a scam until far too late. Often, there is an accomplice who poses as a police officer or lawyer, who provides instructions on how to transfer the money.

How to spot the grandparent scam and protect against it:

- a) Hang up or disconnect a call that doesn't seem legitimate

- b) If you think your family is in trouble, call them directly at a phone number that you have for them
- c) Establish a secret word among family members - for instance, if a grandparent gets a suspicious call, they can ask the caller for the secret word. If the caller doesn't know it, the target will know it's a scam
